

Faces of Fortune-The 20 Tycoons to bet on over the next 10 years

Faces of Fortune is Tee Lin Say's first book on the subject of Mian Xiang or Chinese Face Reading. As an accomplished Face Reading student of Joey Yap and an experienced business journalist, Lin Say merged both her knowledge into this volume, profiling twenty prominent tycoons in Asia based on the art of Face Reading. This book, with a foreword by Joey Yap, takes a step further than the usual financial analysis. Lin Say delves into each tycoon's current age luck and best age phase according to their faces and reveals useful information on their potential success in the next ten years. There are also relevant diagrams and charts to provide further comprehension as well as commentaries for the reader. Face Reading and business are inter-related because the financial markets, commodities, properties, and a country's entire economy are centered around the same thing: people. Being able to read people gives one the upper hand, especially when it comes to business. If you understand people and how they operate, you are equipped with the best tool to seal that deal, buy that winning stock, make more money and, above all, be happy. Faces of Fortune makes a great read for anyone keen or even curious about Face Reading and its relation to the world of business and investment. This book will explain what makes tycoons look different than others and show how good fortune is written on their faces: sure signs you can bet on over the next ten years.
