

Twenty Minutes Late (The Bryant Family Book 2)

Book 2 in the Bryant Family Series. Who could have known that one simple mistake would make such a difference in a young lady's life! In this sequel to Miss Dee Dunmore Bryant, Caroline Bryant misses a train's departure by just twenty minutes, and finds herself on an adventure far from home. With no money or even a change of clothes, Caroline is alone in a big city and reliant upon the kindness of strangers. But Caroline's pride won't let her accept charity; she'll repay her new friends in the only way she can: by making herself useful. Soon Caroline's good sense and hard work catch the attention of a prominent and wealthy physician. Dr. Forsythe has plans for Caroline that if she accepts will bring her all the lovely earthly possessions she longs for ... but will keep her far from home for a very long time. Caroline Bryant misses her home and family, but the doctor's offer is too tempting to resist. Which path will Caroline take? This edition includes group discussion questions, a biography of the author, and an introduction by Christian author Jenny Berlin
